

PERSONAL SHOPPER
Marianne Rohrlach

4.

Fresh Looks at the Tip of Your Finger

A new doorknob can summon Flash Gordon or Louis XV.

5.

6.

8.

9.

11.

Tony Cenicola/The New York Times (5)

1.

ough, Me. (shown, $150 each; some minimums may apply); from chrisdenisonstudio.com or (207) 883-9144.

3. Maffe, a star-shape drawer pull, comes in red and green; a package of two is $4.99 at Ikea, ikea.com or (800) 434-4532.

4. Hand-blown glass drawer pulls are about 1 1/4 inches in diameter and 1 1/2 inches high. They are made of Pyrex to be more durable than other glass, their maker said; various styles, $38 to $100 each. Doorknobs from $200; allthatglass.com or (541) 338-4355.

5. The Nugget doorknob, inspired by Giacometti, shown in pewter ($161), comes in other finishes; a matching cabinet knob is $43.25. At P. E. Guerin, 23 Jane Street (Eighth Avenue), by appointment, (212) 243-5270.

6. Louis XV-style comes in three sizes and many finishes; the trade at Nanz, 111 West Street (Varick Street) by appointment.

7. The Edwards, a design from the Eas as part of a set, with plates and a latch fo

11. A 2 1/8-inch-diameter hand-chiseled knob, based on an 18th-century design, has a filigreed escutcheon; in silver-plated bronze, $1,050 at H. Theophile (to the trade, by appointment); 136 West 21st Street, htheophile.com or (212) 727-0074.